Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

- (e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.
- 2. Claims 1-3, 14-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Habing'578.

The above claims are anticipated by Habing's figures 2, 3a & 3b which together disclose an LCD device and method for conducting light to such device comprising:

- a LCD housing as denoted by the four walls (18,18,20,22);
- a cold cathode fluorescent lamp (28) (col. 4, lines 8+) substantially and at least partially enclosed in and coupled to the LCD housing, wherein the LCD housing conducts light from the light source to the LCD;
- the LCD housing includes a reflectively coated outer surface (24);
- the LCD housing also includes an inner surface and the LCD (26) is adjacent to such surface with a gap in between for the diffuser layer (25) to conduct light out of the LCD housing and to the LCD.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- 3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
  - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 4. Claims 4-13 and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Habing'578.

Regarding the above claims, Habing discloses the claimed invention except for the reflectively coated surface (24) being made of a metal capable of attenuating EMI emissions. It is notoriously well known in the art to use a metal layer as a light reflector, and such metal layer can also act as an EMI shield. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to use a metal layer as the reflective and EMI-shielding surface (24) because:

- the use of a metal layer such as aluminum, chromium, or nickel as a reflective layer in an illumination apparatus for a LCD is notoriously well know;
- Consumer desire for higher computing power of laptops, coupled with the advent of faster computer processors available, result in an increase in electromagnetic interference being generated by such laptops; therefore, the reflective metal layer, due to its conductive property, can also act as an EMI shield to attenuate EMI leaking out of the laptops; furthermore, it can also act as a heat sink to reduce the increasing heat being associated with faster processors and computer electronics in the laptops.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Some of the cited relevant references may also be read on Applicant's invention as presently claimed.
